

Informal Business Letter

June 27, 2018

Dearest Jenna,

How are you? It has been a while since I have last sent a letter. I'm sorry it took me this long to reach out to you again. I have been bombarded with tons of office work recently and you know how my boss throws tantrums when they are not finished right away.

So, how are things with you? You have mentioned that you finally met the guy that fit the description of your ultimate prince charming. How is he? Is he nice to you? Respectful? I remembered your last guy was godly at the start but turned very vile in the end. I hope you made the right choice this time. I want to hear about it in your next reply.

I miss you very much and all of our friends there. I have been lonely and depressed since I arrived here last year. Although I have made a few friends already, the big city somehow makes you feel alone at times. The people are much more different. They rarely mind your business which somehow makes it hard for me to find someone to connect with. You know me, I always want to go out and meet new people. However, I am not doing much of it here. Maybe I just need some more time to adjust.

Anyway, I am planning to come home next year. Well, it came earlier than I expected. I didn't think that I would miss home that much and be this awfully lonely in the big city.

I really hope that you are doing well. And also, send my warm regards to your family. I miss hanging out at your place and be served warm cookies by your mother. I will try to write you as often as possible. I will see you very soon.

Love,

Kamilla

P.S. Write back soon.