Dear Sie,

I am honored to write a reference letter for my older sister, Jenny.

She is not only a great mother of two kids, a caring daughter, a good wife, and sister, she is also a passionate fitness freak and a great writer, who spends her free time doing yoga and doing some freelance writing.

Though only three years older than me, she has accomplished so much and is a source of inspiration to me. She was an honors student and has learned French, Spanish and Japanese. She used to spend her free time volunteering to teach people English to make themselves more employable.

She has volunteered for the UN peace corps and has traveled the world, making it a better place by helping people affected by disasters. Her humanitarian spirit and energy would make her an ideal candidate for the role of the translator at the UN. Kindly consider her application seriously as you would not find a more serious and passionate person who is also a perfect fit for the job

Sincerely,
(Signature)
